Her present owner has the boat sitting on his Private slip on Lake Macquarie.

Built to US Coast Guard and American Boat and Yacht Council safety standards, the Sea Ray 275

Sundancer has a solid glass hull with a good solid feel on the water. The cruiser doesn't shake, shudder or slam when crossing boat wakes.

The boat has sweet mouldings (long a feature of Sea Ray) and thick upholstery and easy-clean cherry wood Formica joinery down below.

Below decks there is a double v-berth, a simple galley section with all the essentials, ample bench space and storage. The vessel is equipped with a fully enclosed bathroom which includes a toilet, shower and sink.
